

SEN. GORE ATTACKS FOOD CONTROL BILL

Declares Measure Will Result in Driving Down Prices and in Famine

KENYON DEFENDS BILL

Terms Food Speculators Allies of the Kaiser and Highwaymen

OFFERS AN AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, June 20.—In a vigorous attack upon the administration food control bill in the senate today, Senator Gore, democrat chairman of the agriculture committee declared it strikes at the farmers, will cause losses to producers this year of $250,000,000 in wheat and $500,000,000 in corn and result in famine next year thru reduced production.

Terms "Short-Sighted Policy."

Senator Gore declared the bill "short-sighted policy" and it would result in driving down farmers' prices.

"I will not say that the intention of this whole movement is to force down the price of products in the hands of farmers but that is the inevitable result," he declared.

Senator Kenyon, Republican, spoke in defense of the bill. He flayed food speculators as highwaymen.

"One, however, should apologize for using the term 'highwaymen' in connection with them," he said. "The highwaymen of the sea pirate is a christian gentleman compared to be a highwayman but not courage to be a food speculator. These gentlemen at the present time are the allies of the kaiser. They are weakening the American nation in its contest. The men who fight must be fed. The mothers of the nation must be fed. The babies of the nation likewise. The men who work to make the things to fight with must be fed."

Does not Injure Farmers.

Senator Kenyon contended the bill does not injure farmers whom, he declared "would rather have food supplies of the nation controlled by the nation than by the food gamblers."

Senators Borah and Reed suggested that the bill be unconstitutional but Senator Kenyon insisted that its provisions are amply justified under the constitutional war-making powers.

"I am deeply apprehensive regarding the effect upon public tranquility unless something is done," said Senator Kenyon. "We must realize the grave situation of the nation, which justifies this legislation."

Under the bill Senator Kenyon said he believed the president could take over factories, such as packing houses. Senator Brandegee suggested that to make such commandeering efficient, commandeering of workmen in such factories also should be provided for.

"If we conscript men's lives," replied Senator Kenyon, "surely we can conscript workmen to feed those men."

Would Affect Prices.

Senator Lewis asked if food prices would not be affected if the government were empowered to seize food and distribute it without delay. Senator Kenyon said it would, adding that a similar law now exists in England but so far there has never been occasion to enforce it.

Senator Weeks expressed the belief that something must be done at once to lower food prices and regulate the steps between the producer and consumer.

Senator Vandaman said he would rather follow Mr. Hoover's idea to have the cooperation of the housewives voluntarily in the campaign for food economy rather than to issue some governmental edict.

"I would rather have the president tell me what I can have to eat rather than have Germany overrun the country," interjected Senator Kenyon.

Opposes Un-American Methods.

"I suppose that remark is directed at me," replied Senator Vandaman. "I do not have to defend my patriotism and I have no fear of any kaiser, German or otherwise holding sway over this country. I am opposed to un-American methods being used."

Senator King suggested that since there will not be enough wheat to fill requirements of the allies and demands of home consumption, except thru rigid economy, the United States government could requisition

U. S. DESTROYERS RESCUE CREWS OF TWO SHIPS

Bring Eighty Survivors To Flo-tilla's Base

Response of American Warships to S. O. S. of Sinking Ships Was a Run of More than a Hundred Miles—Admiral Sims Compliments the Commanders.

The Base of the American Flotilla in British Waters, June 20.—Two American destroyers have returned here with 80 survivors of two torpedoed British ships. The ships were sunk at the farthest point westward in the Atlantic the U-boats have appeared at since the ruthless campaign began and the response of the American destroyers to their S. O. S. was a run of more than a hundred miles.

The best chance human aid can give the wounded.

Searched in Dark for Men.

When the American warships arrived on the scene they found the ships were gone and for many hours they groped about in the dark in search of the survivors. The crew of one of the sunken ships, thirty-one in number, were found in one life boat, while 49 survivors from the second ship were picked up from two small boats. Four sailors from the later ship were killed by the explosion of the torpedo.

Admiral Sims and other naval officers met the destroyers on their return and complimented the commanders on their work. American correspondents were present having been here thru an arrangement between the United States and British governments. The British admiralty assigned an official photographer to take pictures of anything desired by the newspapermen. Many pictures were taken, showing the American tars fraternizing with the British sailors. The Americans presented a splendid appearance, being as fine a body of fighting men as could be found anywhere.

Do not Frequent Saloons.

Altho there are no war-time restrictions on the sale of liquor in this port, the saloons are not the rendezvous of either the Americans or Britishers. One of the diversions of the Americans is initiating their British colleagues into the mysteries of the American national game.

When the correspondents arrived in the port they were taken to the beautiful old English home where Admiral Sims has his headquarters. Their house is 300 feet above the town and from the wonderful gardens which surround it several American destroyers could be seen riding at anchor.

The admiral chatted with the newspapermen for half an hour after which they were taken to inspect the harbor.

THIRTY-TWO BRITISH SHIPS U-BOAT VICTIMS

LONDON, June 20.—Twenty-seven British ships of more than 1600 tons have been sunk, according to the weekly British summary given out today. Five British vessels under 1600 tons also were sent to the bottom. No fishing vessels were destroyed.

The foregoing figures of British shipping losses as the result of Germany's submarine warfare show a larger number of vessels in the 1600 tons and over category sunk than ships of over 1600 tons were destroyed. During that week 51 vessels—35 over and 13 under 1600 tons were sunk.

The heaviest totals since the Teuton submarine campaign was opened in February last were registered in the week ending April 21 when fifty steamers of more than 1600 tons were sunk and fifteen vessels of the smaller tonnage were sent to the bottom.

Since the middle of April when the undersea boat activity recorded its highest toll, 363 British vessels of which 220 measured more than 1600 tons were sunk, the weekly total being as follows:

Week Ending	Over 1600 Tons	Under 1600 Tons
April 21	40	15
April 28	38	13
May 5	24	22
May 12	18	5

PATRIOTIC TUNES ALLAY PANICKY FEARS

CHICAGO, June 20.—When the big excursion steamer Theodore Roosevelt ran on a pile of rocks last night with her load of 1,800 delegates to the encampment of the Modern Woodmen of America, panicky fears were allayed by the playing of "America" and the "Star Spangled Banner" by the band. One of the excursionists described it thus:

"The impact jarred the whole ship and women and children ran screaming about the decks. We were all a bit scared but some of us began cracking jokes about being torpedoed, and then the band struck up. My, how we did sing."

The rocks were some being dumped in the lake for a new break-water off the municipal pier. The Roosevelt was pulled off by a tug, little damaged. None was hurt.

SLIDE CHANGES COURSE OF GRAND RIVER

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., June 20.—The Grand river was forced to change its course near Tunnel, twenty miles from here, early today, when a quantity of earth and rock from a mountain which the stream undermined fell into it damming it up.

No estimates of the damage has been made tho a repair gang foreman reported "hundreds of feet" of Denver and Rio Grande railroad track washed out. All the railroad buildings at Tunnel were washed away.

The Grand river has been at flood stage for two days and portions of the country near here have been inundated with some damage to farm property, but so far there has been no loss of life reported.

BALFOUR GIVES ACCOUNT OF MISSION TO AMERICA

Luncheon Given in His Honor by Parliamentary Association

Foreign Secretary Asserts "What Moves Me is the Tremendous Spontaneous Enthusiasm of America for What is Now Our Common Cause."

London, June 20.—Arthur J. Balfour, secretary of state for foreign affairs, gave an accounting of his stewardship in connection with his mission to the United States to the members of the house of commons today in a luncheon arranged in his honor by the Empire parliamentary Association. The guests were members of parliament and cabinet ministers, with the American Ambassador Walter Hines Page and a few colonial representatives as the only outsiders.

Asquith Welcomes Balfour.

Ex-Premier Herbert H. Asquith presided as a token of the non-political character of the occasion. After a cordial welcome home, voiced by Mr. Asquith, Mr. Balfour said in part:

"I need not dwell on the boundless kindness shown us, which was so obviously from the heart. The American people would have given us that same hospitality under any circumstances."

"What moves me, and all of British and France, too, is something deeper, namely the tremendous spontaneous enthusiasm of America for what is now our common cause and the deep feeling of sympathy which manifests animates the entire American community, north, south, east and west."

"It was not in the power of any mission or any group of individuals to create that feeling. Our mission was merely the occasion for its manifestation, it gave the Americans a chance to show what they felt in the cause of world freedom. And this is the greatest and profoundest result of our trip. This is a result of which the value cannot be measured by the mere effect it will have on the present war, but which will outlast many generations."

Co-Operation Will Endure.

"Thus the mission has been the occasion of the most beneficial development of international relations in the history of the world. Most alliances in history have been based on temporary agreements between nations for the pursuit of certain aims and ambitions, and therefore passed with the passing occasion. But the co-operation between England and America because it is not based on the fact that each nation hopes to get something out of the present but on a deep congruity of ideals, will endure as long as the two nations are content to pursue these ideals which, I pray God, may be forever."

"Our alliance is based on a great moral consideration. We alike do not wish to use war as an instrument of expansion and so we may here be certain that the United States will not leave us until our great ends are accomplished. There is nothing I am more certain of than this: that the United States having its hand to the plow, will not turn back."

STATES EXTENSIONS ARE DESIRABLE

Copenhagen, via London, June 20.—A convention of the Radical party in Saxony was held in Dresden on Sunday. Herr Wiemer, a Reichstag deputy declared that while the party was opposed to boundless annexations, extensions of frontiers on both east and west were desirable for the better protection of German soil against invasion.

Deputy Wiemer said that the question of colonies must also come into consideration in peace negotiations and that a war indemnity to cover part of Germany's expenditure was highly desirable. For these reasons the deputy said he condemned the Socialist propaganda for peace without annexation or indemnities.

DESIGNATES RECRUITING WEEK

Washington, June 20.—President Wilson issued a proclamation today designating the week of June 23-30 as recruiting week for the regular army and called upon unmarried men without dependents to enroll for war service in order that the ranks of the regulars might be filled promptly.

VOICES BELGIUM'S GRATITUDE TO U. S.

Head of Belgian War Mission Pays Especial Tribute To Herbert Hoover

FIRE WITH CONFIDENCE

Says U. S. Entry Into War Gives Complete Confidence in An Early Victory

FRIENDSHIP STRONGER

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Baron Moncheur, head of the Belgian war mission, today expressed to the American people, thru the Washington correspondents, Belgium's deep gratitude for America's "generous outpouring of material assistance and sympathy."

He paid an especial tribute to Herbert C. Hoover, for his Belgian relief work.

Purpose is to Voice Gratitude.

"The purpose of our visit to this country," said the Baron, "is to express to your government and people the heartfelt gratitude of Belgium for the generous outpouring of material assistance and sympathy, which have gone so far to save the men of my stricken country from the horrors of famine and to maintain their unshaken courage in the hour of trial."

"Your entry into the war not only brings to us the satisfaction of finding in an old friend a new ally, but fire us with complete confidence in an early and victorious issue of the great struggle which has brought to my country so much of misery and suffering."

"Our admiration for your decision in entering the war is all the greater because we know that you did so in full knowledge of all its horrors and realized fully the sacrifices you will be called upon to make, the tears that will flow, the inevitable heartache and the sorrow that will darken your homes. This shows us, as nothing else could, the determination of your country to see that when peace comes it shall be an honest peace, one that is a last and one that will bring freedom and happiness to all nations."

When an arm is gone—the strong arm of a national organization.

Belgium Wiped Out.

"From being one of the foremost industrial nations of the world, ranking fourth among exporting countries, Belgium for the time being has been ruthlessly wiped out. Her factories are closed. With cold calculation for the ruin of the country the invaders have even removed the machinery from our factories and shipped it to Germany as part of a far sighted and cynical program of economic annihilation. And worst of all, a part of Belgium's unoffending laboring class has been torn from their families and sent to toil in Germany under a system that would have offended the moral sense of the middle ages."

"But this is only a passing phase. On the day of deliverance sounds of industry will again be heard. And that final day of victory the friendship of our two peoples, purified in the fire of suffering, will emerge greater and stronger than ever."

THREE BOYS BEAT JUNKMAN TO DEATH

CHICAGO, June 20.—David Terry, 33 years old, a junkman, was beaten to death with a baseball bat by three boys between 12 and 14 years old in an alley on the west side this afternoon. Robbery is believed to have been the motive of the attack. The boys called the junkman old iron to sell. After the attack the boys escaped. Sundry was found by the police and gave a description of his assailants before being removed to a hospital where he died.

GOETHALS BEFORE SENATE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Aeroplane and artillery, with ships and food, Major General Goethals today told the senate military sub-committee will be the principal factors in winning the war.

Supporting bills to create a new department of aeronautics General Goethals approved co-ordination of all government aeronautics under one authority.

In speaking of his belief in concentrating authority General Goethals said it might become necessary to create a department of munitions.

At the same time a house committee was considering legislation to greatly increase the aircraft of the army and the navy, possibly to a fleet of 100,000 machines.

TRADE COMMISSION REPORTS ON COAL PROBE

Urges Government Pools of Production and Distribution

Commission Believes Coal Industry is Paralyzing Industries of Country and Coal Industry is Paralyzed by Failure of Transportation.

Washington, June 20.—Government pools of coal production and distribution and of rail and water transportation were recommended to congress today by the federal trade commission as the only means of avoiding a disastrous coal shortage next winter.

Paralyzing Other Industries.

"The commission believes," says the report, submitted after many months of investigation ordered by congress, "that the coal industry is paralyzing the industries of the country and that the coal industry itself is paralyzed by the failure of transportation. There are enough coal cars in the country but not enough are delivered to the mines and these cars are not moved to the point of consumption with the greatest expedition nor are they promptly distributed."

In view of these conditions the commission recommends:

"First—That the production and distribution of coal and coke be conducted thru a pool in the hands of government agency; that the producers of various grades of fuel be paid their full cost of production, plus a uniform profit per ton with due allowance for quality of product and efficiency of service; and

Would Pool Transportation.

"Second—That the transportation agencies of the United States, both the rail and water be similarly pooled and operated on government account, under the direction of the president and that all such means of transportation be operated as a unit, the owning corporation being paid a just and fair compensation which would cover normal net profit, up-keep and betterments."

These recommendations are approved by Commissioners Colver and Fort. Chairman Harlan dissents on the plan for transportation pool, except as a last resort, and suggests instead "that during the war the president be authorized to order rail and water transportation agencies to give preference to shipments of coal, coke and other commodities in the order of their importance to the public welfare."

An urgent necessity exists for immediate legislation to correct conditions, says the report, because the usual spring and summer accumulation of coal stocks at points distant from producing districts "is not now taking place, but it must be made during what remains of the summer unless the country is to face next winter a most serious and irreparable situation."

Forty Percent Under Maximum.

Present production of bituminous or "soft" coal is forty percent under the possible maximum, principally because of coal shortage, the report declares. Consequently, the extra large production of anthracite this spring, one fourth greater than usual, has been diverted to industrial markets ordinarily filled by bituminous coal and coke.

Anthracite mines have been given ample car supply, the commission observes "by reason of the close corporate relation between rail transportation and anthracite production."

Bituminous mines, however, are compelled by the coal shortage to operate on part time and many miners are going into other work.

Contributing factors in the disorganization of coal transportation are the high barge rates from New York to Newport News to Boston, and the practice of lake ships to make trips to the northwest in water ballast rather than carry coal.

BOY BLOWN FIFTEEN FEET IS UNHURT

Chicago, June 20.—Arthur Genaur, 10 years old, escaped injury today despite the fact that he was blown fifteen feet by the explosion of a tank containing more than fifty gallons of gasoline. The accident occurred in the rear of an Oak Park garage. The boy was playing near the tank and threw a lighted match into the receptacle. After the explosion, the boy, to the surprise of frightened parents, got up and ran away. It was an hour later before his parents found him.

CHARGE WIDESPREAD TRAFFIC IN YOUNG GIRLS

Commissioner Woods Orders a Rigid Probe of Allegations

Action Follows Announcement That Between 700 and 800 Girls Have Disappeared From Their Homes Since January 1.

New York, June 20.—Sensational allegations of a widespread traffic in girls in this city resulted in police Commissioner Woods ordering a rigid investigation of the charges today. His action followed the announcement that between 700 and 800 girls have disappeared from their homes here since January 1. This was the most important result thus far of the belated discovery by a woman lawyer and a private detective of the murder of Ruth Cruger, 18 year old high school student, months after the police had ended a superficial search for her.

"Spare no one," was the order given to Inspector J. A. Faurot, who was placed in charge of the inquiry which is expected to shake the police department from top to bottom.

Mrs. Humiston, the woman lawyer, today emphasized the importance, of having Alfredo Cocchi, who is formally charged with Miss Cruger's murder, brought back from Italy where he fled after Miss Cruger disappeared. She declared that if the authorities can get a statement from him he "will involve so many important people that the case will be one of the most sensational ever exposed in this country."

For two hours today Mrs. Marie Cocchi, wife of the fugitive, was questioned at the district attorney's office. She insisted she knew nothing that could throw light on Miss Cruger's disappearance or murder.

CONSTANTINE REACHES LUGANO, SWITZERLAND

LUGANO, Switzerland, via Paris, June 20.—Former King Constantine of Greece arrived here today. Officers and delegates of the Swiss government met him at the frontier and welcomed him in the name of Switzerland. A large number of German personages waited for the king at the depot, including Prince and Princess Von Buelow and Dr. von Muehlberg, German minister to the Vatican. The Greek minister to Bern was also present. Constantine and his suit drove directly to the hotel where rooms had been reserved for them.

A number of German diplomats arrived here in anticipation of the coming of the former king, who was delayed by the illness of his wife. A long telegram from the German Emperor was handed to Constantine as soon as he left the train.

The immediate future movements of the former monarch are unknown but it is believed he will shortly go to Germany to visit the Emperor.

PROPOSES WIDER PROBE OF RUSSIAN RAILROADS

PETROGRAD, via London, June 20.—The American railway commission which is now in Petrograd proposes to make a wider examination of Russia's railroad resources than was first contemplated and a trip through the south is now being considered. The commission is confident that the great improvements are practicable, even with the existing deficiencies in rolling stock. The immediate problem is congestion and the commission believes that even under present conditions traffic can be increased more than three fold.

The Americans are somewhat skeptical, it is believed, about the possibility of managing the lines on the principles put forward by N. V. Nekrasoff, minister of communications who is accompanying the commission. In a statement given to the Associated Press Mr. Mitinsky, director of the department of material, warm appreciation was expressed for the work already done by the Americans.

MODERN WOODMEN ELECT

Chicago, June 20.—As the result of the election of O. E. Aleshire of Chicago as head banker, $5,000,000 of the funds of the Modern Woodmen of America will be transferred to Chicago banks, it was announced today. A. R. Tabot of Lincoln, Neb., was elected head consul, D. H. Horn of Davenport, Ia., head adviser, and Albert W. Bort of Beloit, Wis., head clerk.

Can you shut your eyes upon the shining Red Cross?

NEED LARGE FORCE TO BUILD CAMPS

WASHINGTON, June 20.—A force of from 60,000 to 80,000 workmen will be required in the construction of the 16 great cantonments for the national army, according to figures furnished today by the war department. Some idea of the magnitude of the project may be gained from the estimates which show that 334 miles of insulated wire, forty thousand skegs of nails, 75,000-barrels of cement and thirty thousand shower bath heads are to be used.

LOWDEN TENDERS POSITIONS

Springfield, Ill., June 20.—Governor Lowden today tendered positions on the state centennial commission to William N. Pelouze of Chicago and Col. Fred H. Smith of Peoria. But for these two places the board of fifteen members has been completed.

FORSAKE TRENCHES FOR SHELL HOLES

Many Changing Phases Marks Fighting on West Front

FIGHT DAY AND NIGHT

Shell Craters Lend Themselves To Quick Conversion Into Gun Emplacements

NOT EASY TARGETS

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS in France.—By The Associated Press.—June 20.—The western front nowadays is marked by many changing phases. East of Bloody Monchy-lez-Preaux on the Arras battlefield and west of Vermeton, on the Messines battlefield, trench lines have been forsaken and fighting is being carried on day and night between large bodies of opposing troops lying out in the shell holes. Some of these holes, blown by heavy caliber guns are really enormous craters, in which two score of men can establish and fortify themselves.

Not Easy Artillery Targets

Shell holes lend themselves to quick conversion into machine gun emplacements, and those ghastly weapons form the chief means of defense. The offensive weapon in shell hole warfare generally are hand grenades. Shell holes are not easy targets for artillery, whereas fixed trenches can easily be photographed from airplanes and the heavy guns can be registered on them without great difficulty.

The Germans are showing a particular desire to cling to the shell holes as long as possible before retiring to their fixed lines in the rear. This is quite a change from their ordinary habits, for heretofore they have loved their deep dugouts in the trenches with a love that seldom breaks separation. Some prisoners taken from shell holes recently—pulled bodily out in nocturnal raids—have frankly said, however, that it is discipline and not desire that keeps them out in the open.

Thousands Can Take Cover

The Germans recently turned a hurricane annihilating artillery fire on the trenches they had lost to the British on infantry hill east of Monchy, but the British troops suffered little loss from the lavish Teutonic expenditure of high explosives. The manner of utilizing shell craters is little short of marvelous. Thousands of men can take cover in these craters, yet from even the most forward observation post the battlefield looks absolutely empty.

A considerable attack from shell hole positions can be watched without the realization that desperate fighting is in progress. Always there is noise from exploding grenades, but these missiles are so small that they cannot be seen in the air from a distance of 300 yards.

From time to time a small group of men will leap from one hole to another, dragging machine guns with them and disappearing so quickly in the new shelter that the earth seems to have opened and swallowed them. Ability to take quick advantage of any available cover is an art the American troops will have to study thoroughly when they come to take their place on the fighting front.

Carrying Supplies Difficult

The carrying of supplies to shell holes and bringing back the wounded is very difficult during the mid-summer short nights. The battlefields have been enwrapped in a great heat wave

CLASS DAY AT HARVARD.
Cambridge, Mass., June 20.—War conditions necessitated some modifications in the Class Day exercises at Harvard University today, but in the main the program was carried out in accordance with time honored custom. The day began with the customary devotional service in Appleton Chapel, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Albert Parker Fitch, president of Andover Theological Seminary. At 10:45 the seniors formed in front of Holyworth, and marched to Sanders Theater, where the Class Day exercises took place. The class poet, who is training at the aviation school at Newport News, was unable to be present, but his poem was read by a classmate. The same procedure was followed in the case of the ivy orator. The ivy orator was unable to leave Fort Sheridan, and in consequence the oration was read by a classmate. Many of the social functions which it has been the custom to hold at the various schools and Greek letter houses on the evening of Class Day were eliminated from the program, owing to the necessity of many of the seniors returning to the Plattsburg training camp in the later afternoon.

PRESIDENT MAY VISIT NANTUCKET.

Nantucket, Mass., June 20.—Siasconset, the little summer colony on the eastern end of the island of Nantucket, peopled almost wholly by prominent men and women of the stage, is eagerly anticipating the probability of an early visit by the President and Mrs. Wilson. Professor and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre (Jesse Wilson), of Williamstown, have leased one of the Siasconset bungalows for the season and are expected to arrive tomorrow to take possession of their new summer home. The President, it is understood, has assured his daughter that he and Mrs. Wilson will pay the family a visit during the season if his public duties permit him to leave Washington.

AN UNEQUIVOCAL RULING.

There is nothing half way about the rulings of the postal department in interpreting the new law with reference to liquor advertising. As a result, no drink that contains alcohol can be advertised in dry territory and this applies no matter whether the liquor is intended for beverage, scientific, sacramental, medicinal or mechanical purposes.

LINCOLN'S MUNICIPAL RAILWAY

It is not often in these days that bond issues carry by such a heavy majority as did that in Lincoln providing for the purchase of the street railway there. The vote was 2,673 for and 271 against the proposal. Because of certain orders made by the utility commission the railway company there abandoned its lines but the citizens were game and have readily voted a $30,000 bond issue to take over the properties and operate them. One of the city commissioners will serve as superintendent, so that there will be no additional expense on this account. This experiment in city ownership and management will be watched with interest.

GOVERNMENT FAVORS WOMEN WORKERS.

The government is setting the pace in giving preference to women employees at Washington. A large number of clerical positions heretofore held by able-bodied men are now filled by women. War preparations work is resulting in hundreds of other positions and it is announced that women will be given the preference among applicants for these positions. The great influx of workers has meant 10,000 or more additional residents for Washington and one trying question is to provide suitable housing for these government workers. Hotels and boarding houses are so overcrowded that a number of the well to do women of the city are "renting out rooms." In the case of these wealthy women this is just another form of patriotism and as time goes on the people are finding that the paths of patriotism are many.

PASTORS PREACH AGAINST WASTE.

Again the churches have been called upon to do their part in the present campaign of war preparations. Herbert Hoover, national food director, is urging pastors of all denominations to impress upon their people the great need that exists in this country for larger production of food stuffs and greater economy in their use. In localities like this it is too late to accomplish much in the line of greater production and if the advice of ministers is given from the pulpit and heeded it must be with reference to waste. After all, that is the most essential point, for as the result of a campaign of education begun months ago by the department of agriculture the American people came into a very thorough understanding of the needs for a more extensive growing of food stuffs.

MORE CREDIT FOR GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

One of the many good things to the credit of the recent Illinois general assembly was the fact that it refused to lessen the provisions of the child labor law and instead strengthened the law. There were those who sought to make the most of times and conditions and to make ineffective certain provisions of the law which it took years of hard struggle on the part of earnest reformers to secure. Still another good act was found in the provision made to establish a state farm for offenders against the law over the age of 16.

In states where such farms have been operated the benefits to the inmates physically and morally have been great, and it is due to the legislature today that not for years have so many favorable newspaper comments been made on an assembly session. The senators and representatives deserve part of the credit, but they must share that with a strong forceful governor who is proving himself a wise leader not only in party but in public affairs.

WORTH WHILE LIVING

(From the Philadelphia Ledger.)
Some of us laugh and revel in the sun and fling the net for butterflies and have no care for the coming of the night. We earn a little, and then we run away from work and hide from duty till we have spent all we made. Our idea of bliss seems to be a "sweet do-nothing." We plan to sleep to dream, to sit with folded hands—as tho that could be happiness! If you would make a strong man miserable, retire him for any reason from the business that has grown beneath his hands. Make him emeritus with what ceremony you please and it does not atone to him for the office hours and something to fill them. He has formed a habit of work that has a firmer hold on his life than any vice or vice. He has had a joy in living no idler ever knew. Maybe the other boys played while he worked, when he and they were young—but he has passed them long ago.

The world of workers cannot be expected to admire the other world of shirkers, where it is always time to lie down in the shade or to eat, drink and be merry, or to go philosophizing. In all this serious business of preparation the difference between the two sorts of people is brought home to every thoughtful observer. The men who were born to lead come forward and naturally fit into their places, and since all cannot lead, none qualified to go first is ashamed to follow, if only he may serve. Their thoughts and acts seem to be on a plane so high removed above the silly inconsequence of the triflers that it is hard to realize that the toilers and the triflers all inhabit the same universe. The former might show the latter what is worth while if the latter ever cared to learn or could be persuaded to leave their play.

UNORGANIZED AGRICULTURE.

(Philadelphia Ledger.)
Agriculture is unorganized industry. Note the result:
Our wheat crop this year will be only a half greater than it was the year Garfield defeated Hancock; our corn crop two-thirds greater; and our potato yield about three times as large.
There was just as loud a cry this year for more corn, wheat and potatoes as for more steel, and the prices for food rose as much to induce greater output. But what a sad showing for unorganized industry!
Wheat increases only 50 per cent.
Corn increases about 70 per cent.
Potatoes increase 200 per cent.
But steel jumps 4,400 per cent.
We would lose this war if our steel trusts had not answered the call better than our 12,000,000 unorganized farmers.

ARE YOU A RED CROSS WORKER?

There's a band that has no shirkers.
Gathered at the Red Cross sign.
And there all are willing workers
For their purpose is divine.

To the helpless and the crying
Whom'er fell destruction reigns,
There the needs they are supplying
Drying tears and lulling pains.

To the wounded of the battle,
Do the loving workers go;
Fearing not the cannons' rattle
Nor the bursting shell of foe.

Say are you a Red Cross backer?
Are you lending helping hand?
We've no room for any slacker.
In our fair Columbia land.

You should be a Red Cross member;
Join then in our land's defense.
'Tis to help our boys remember,
Costs you just One Hundred Cents.

—S. A. Hughes.

FUEL CONTROL NEEDED

As congress shows some disposition to lag and hold back in the matter of giving the president authority which will permit control of food and fuel, an insistent demand comes from the people in many states for such control.

There has been no great change in the prices of foods in the past few weeks and the price of coke and coal has remained about stationary. But the people have good reason for believing that these present very low prices are insignificant to what may be charged later on unless the government by some means takes control of affairs. It is argued with good point that the present situation is due to some extent to the fact that for weeks and months thousands—yes, hundreds of thousands—of people have been quietly buying necessities and storing them for future use, simply because of the fear of higher prices later on. The same thing has been true of manufacturing establishments that have purchased fuel in greater quantity than their needs for fear not only of higher prices but a shortage which will result in extensive shut-downs.

But this over-buying by no means accounts for all of the high prices and in fairness to the public congress should find some way of so controlling prices that the average wage earner can live. It is seemingly possible to do this to some extent with wheat and other grains when the influence of boards of trade but some means must be found to curb the coal operators. The federal trade commission has recommended to congress that a plan be evolved whereby the government shall operate all of the coal mines of the country and allow the operators a fair per cent of profit above operation costs. This sounds revolutionary and paternalistic but the times require action in this country such as has never been taken before.

All along there have been some of the coal men who advocated a moderate course and who believed in fairness to the public and in considering their own best interests that it would be wise not to get fuel prices to an extreme figure. But the greater majority of operators are in for taking all the profit they can get, and in past weeks some of them have not hesitated to prophesy that coal in Illinois this winter will sell at $6 to $7 at the mines.

The operations of the federal trade commission thus far have not shown any special benefit to the public but is earnestly hoped that the suggestion that something must be done with the fuel supply will be given heed by congress. There is something of irony in the situation so far as Illinois is concerned in this suggestion of the federal trade commission for it is a generally known fact that two years ago various associations of Illinois coal operators were organized with knowledge and consent of the federal trade commission. In fact, a representative of the commission came to Illinois, investigated conditions, met the operators and then gave approval to certain lines of co-operative action. These associations were not authorized to fix a common selling price but the action they were authorized to take had that very effect.

There will be trouble at both home and abroad unless the government finds some means of protecting the public in these matters of food and fuel supplies.

HAPPY ANYHOW

I know not how the weather man may run his old machine; I'll be as happy as I can, and keep my mind serene. Man cannot change the course of things by looking glum all day, so he is wise who whoops and sings, and says, "Hip, Hip, Hooray." Whether I am inclined to whine, I murmur to my soul, "No fierce protesting words of mine will lift things from the hole. The weather sharp will not dispel the gray clouds overhead, because I stand around and yell, and wish that I were dead. So let the clouds, all wet and gray, continue to collect, I still shall cry, Hip, Hip Hooray, or words to that effect." Thus, as I go about my biz, I cheer up other folks; they say "Great Scott, how blithe he is!" and borrow forty cents. Some droop and mope because they think our war with Kaiser Bill will put the country on the blink and all fair prospects kill. But moping will not help to slay a single foe, that's flat; far better cry, "Hip, Hip Hooray," and let it go at that.

COUNTY RESIDENTS RED CROSS ENTHUSIASTS

Men and Women From Various Towns Here for Conference—Business District Campaign to Begin Saturday

At the Red Cross shop Wednesday night men and women from various parts of Morgan county were present for a conference. There are representatives from Alexander, Chapin, Concord, Markham, Murrayville, Sinclair and Woodson. The conference was of an informal kind and continued for two hours. All of those present made a very clear that they are thoroughly interested in the movement and that the same is true of the people in the neighborhoods that they represent. The work of organization in the various precincts mentioned was delegated to persons present at the conference. They will attend to this work and then make their report to the Red Cross executive committee here.

Campaign Begins Saturday
At this meeting it was announced by Mr. Crabtree that the plans for the campaign in Jacksonville have progressed to such an extent that the canvass for members will begin Saturday instead of waiting until Monday following the Sunday night meeting, as was originally intended. This Saturday canvass, however, will be practically confined to the business district. A large number of sub-stations will be opened in stores in the business district and "Red Cross girls" properly uniformed, will be there to issue the membership cards and buttons and collect the membership fees. Sunday morning there will be Red Cross services in all the churches of the city and there the opportunity of membership will be given, just as will be true at the big Sunday night mass meeting.

Red Cross is rampant both in the city and county and with the great united effort which is now so well under way, gives ready promise that Jacksonville and Morgan county will measure fully up to expectations. Scores of additional canvassers are wanted for next week's campaign and if you desire to help in this great work be sure to enroll at the Red Cross shop, so that you can be assigned to a particular district for work.

Decorating Committee Named

As will be noted in another column, Mr. Crabtree has appointed a decorating committee for the Sunday night mass meeting. This committee includes Lloyd Reid, William Sooy, Curtis Copp, Frank Plouer and E. E. Grassley. All of these young men, connected with mercantile establishments, have large experience in decorative work and their appointment gives assurance that the opera house will be artistic and resplendent with the national colors Sunday night.

In addition to the business sessions the two day program provides for a parade and numerous features of entertainment.

C. E. SOCIETY PICNIC

The Intermediate Endeavor society of Centraj Christian church held a picnic at Nichols park Tuesday which was enjoyed by one hundred and twenty-five people. In the games and contests honors were won by William Headen, Richard McCarty and Dorothy Green. The supper was served at 6 o'clock and the party returned at seven.

ROAD MAP FOR THE STATE IS ISSUED

Shows Routes for Hard Roads If Bond Issue Carries—Assembly Road Improvement Figures.

A map showing the Illinois state bond issue road system indicates a road from Springfield to Jacksonville, a road from Ashland to Alexander, from Jacksonville to White Hall and Jacksonville to Winchester. Comparing Morgan county with other counties of the size, residents here will have reason to be well satisfied with the roads proposed. Representatives Frisch, Lyon and Jones made an earnest effort to see that Morgan county interests were cared for.

While the bill was under consideration it was found that one of the roads now routed thru Morgan county was scheduled for another direction. A number of Morgan county citizens immediately took the matter up with Representative Frisch and he, with the aid of others, was able to make the change which will be beneficial to this county.

Road Betterment Figures.
In this connection a statement issued by S. E. Bradt, secretary of the state highway commission, with reference to assembly appropriations for road improvements, is of interest. The statement shows that the sum appropriated by the fiftieth general assembly is a million dollars greater than that previously set aside for this purpose. The following facts are from Mr. Bradt's statement:
The appropriations made by the fiftieth general assembly for road improvement are as follows:
Unexpected balance .. $1,173,979.00
Total .. 1,326,000.00
To meet future needs .. 1,200,000.00
For state aid work .. 1,200,000.00
Total .. $3,699,979.00
Amount appropriated and to be appropriated by federal government and the counties of Illinois .. $3,699,979.00
Total available for expenditures for road improvement in Illinois during 1917 and 1918 .. $7,399,958.00
Appropriation by forty-ninth general assembly for road improvement: Unexpected balance .. $ 600,000.00
State aid roads .. 2,000,000.00
Total .. $2,600,000.00
Excess appropriations in 1917 over 1915 .. $1,099,979.00

MISS BORGELT BRIDE OF W. P. PHILLIPS

Well Known Young People Married at Havana—Will Live at Lake Forest.

A noteworthy event in Havana (Ill.) society was the recent marriage of William P. Phillips and Miss Alice Borgelt, one of Havana's prominent young women. After leaving his position on the faculty of Illinois Woman's College, Mr. Phillips took a place in Bloomington and now is head of the vocal department at Lake Forest University. After the ceremony which was solemnized recently at the home of Charles W. Borgelt, the bride's father, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips went to Chicago and from there proceeded to their new home at Lake Forest.

The current Mason County Democrat has this to say of the marriage of Miss Borgelt and Mr. Phillips: "At the appointed hour, the ceremony was performed by the father of the groom, Rev. Wm. S. Phillips, pastor of the M. E. church in Cerro Gordo, Illinois. Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served, after which the bride and groom departed for Chicago, later going to Lake Forest, where Mr. Phillips will continue his teaching in Lake Forest University, and where they will make their home."

"The bride is the lovely and talented daughter of Charles W. Borgelt, is a graduate of the Havana high school, and of Northwestern University in the musical department, and for the past year has been supervisor of music in the local schools. She is prominent in Havana social circles, and is one of Havana's most prominent vocalists, having a beautiful soprano voice, and being always willing to appear for the entertainment of others."

"The groom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Phillips of Cerro Gordo. He was born and reared in Jacksonville, where he studied voice, later going to Europe where he studied with the leading European teachers, among them, Oscar Elgel. He is an oratorical and concert singer of ability, and has appeared in Havana on several occasions."

"Mr. Phillips has taught in the Illinois Woman's College at Jacksonville, in Bloomington and is at present head of the department of the Lake Forest University."

"Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will reside at Ferry Hall, in Lake Forest. Mrs. Phillips will continue the study of voice."

"Those present from out of the city were: Rev. and Mrs. Wm. S. Phillips of Cerro Gordo; Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Phillips of Bloomington and Wood Phillips of Jacksonville."

BLUFFS BUSINESS HOUSES BURGLARIZED

A number of business houses at Bluffs were burglarized some time Tuesday night and some money and tools taken. It is probable that the burglars first entered the Hollinger blacksmith shop. A number of tools were taken from this place, probably for the purpose of forcing entrance into the other business houses. At the Knoepel grocery store entrance was made thru a window. The cash register was opened and $10 secured, $5 of which belonged to the Red Cross fund.

The burglars also visited the W. H. Green & Son store but a thorough inspection of the stock failed to disclose any articles missing. There was evidence that the intruders visited the Burrus store, altho entrance was not affected. Bluffs authorities have been unable as yet to discover any clue to the identity of the burglars.

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

The weekly report of losses to British shipping sunk by submarines or mines has again reached alarming proportions. It shows an increase over the reports of the last six weeks to tonnage destroyed. The latest figures 27 vessels of over 1600 tons and five under 1600 tons, higher, except during the weeks ending April 21 and 28, than during any similar periods since Germany's intensified submarine campaign began. During the latter weeks 40 and 38 merchantmen, respectively were sent to the bottom.

On the fighting fronts in France the British forces of field Marshal Haig have recaptured important positions from the Germans east of Arras, while the Germans in the Champagne region have gained a foothold in French first line trenches. The British gain was made east of Monchy-Le-Preux where Monday the Germans, under cover of a violent bombardment, drove back the British and occupied their trenches between the Allette river and Moulens de Laffaux the Germans, in a strong attack in which huge effective were used, captured a section of a trench held by the French. The attack was delivered over a front of about two thirds of a mile and followed a violent bombardment of the French line.

Near Lens the Canadians, in an assault on a position held by the Germans which was barring the way to the coal city, routed out the defenders and captured the trenches and incorporated them into British lines. The Germans in vicious attacks endeavored to regain the lost terrain but were beaten off.

In the Austro-Italian theater the Italians on the Asiago plateau southeast of Trentino are again developing the offensive which last week gave them considerable territory but which was stopped by weather conditions. The Rome war office reports the taking of formidable positions on the plateau and the capture of more than a thousand officers and men besides inflicting heavy casualties on the Austrians who strenuously resisted the advance.

The expected general engagement along the Macedonian front has not yet developed but on various sectors, notably in the Cerna Bend and north of Monastir, the artillery activity has again increased.

In Greece steps are being taken to rid the country of German propagandists. Thirty one of them, including former premiers and other ministers and officers of the Greek general staff and the reservists, have been ordered expelled from the country, while others will be placed under surveillance.

EXEMPTION BOARD LISTS FORWARDED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 20.—Names of men suggested to President Wilson by Governor Lowden for places on Illinois exemption boards, which will pass on petitions for release from military service in this state have gone forward to Washington the governor announced tonight. He stated the list would not be given publicity from his office, inasmuch as he had been asked merely to suggest men for board positions.

Governor Lowden asked the co-operation of legislators in selecting the personnel of the boards, but stated he would not hesitate to make changes if he saw fit. One member of each board is to be a physician and many of the doctor members, it is understood, have not been consulted, with the hope that they will not decline when their selection has been announced at the national capital.

More than two weeks was required to whip the exemption board lists into shape. Adjutant General Dickson, provost marshal of Illinois, in order to give practically all his time to this work, shut himself in a room at a hotel and refused all callers.

Two hundred and ten volunteer solicitors under the direction of Frank O. Wetmore, chairman of the executive committee, are busy canvassing the banks and business houses for funds. Fargo, N. D., June 20.—"Old Man" Trenholm of Bowden, N. D., sixty years old and full of fight, wants to go to war but insists that he be named as a scout. He refuses to serve in any other capacity.

"I scouted for Custer and other good Indian fighters when fighting was good in North Dakota," he asserted recently. "I'm sixty years old but I can shake a leg as chipper as any of 'em in a jig or a reel. I won't go as a soldier. I'm a good shot and I want to shoot when I get a good chance just like I used to on the plains. Now if Uncle Sam wants a good scout I'm his man." Trenholm is a North Dakota pioneer, spending his summers at farming and his winters at trapping.

RE-THRASHING OLD WHEAT

This kind of "conservation" started in the southern part of the state and has spread widely. Attention of county observation boards and defense councils have been called to the probability of substantially increasing the food supply by re-threshing wheat straw and for the benefit of wheat growers a record will be kept of further results of the re-threshing.

The official announcement mentions the "voluntary" nature of the recruiting but does not specify the conditions. The Belgian provinces have refused to meet the increased war contribution of 60,000,000 marks monthly which the Germans have now imposed upon them. In the same fashion as formerly the Germans have forced contributions from the banks.

There was a rush of Red Cross dividends today by banks and corporations, nearly half a million dollars being reported in various contributions.

The omnibus bill now in the hands of the attorney general will not reach the governor before Monday or Tuesday it was stated. He is expected to reduce the total materially.

Persons seeking hearings on bills are being requested to file objections or contentions in writing because of the difficulty of giving an audience to everybody seeking to see the governor.

The occasion of the gathering is the fifty-first annual encampment of the Wisconsin G. A. R., which had its formal opening today and will continue in session until Friday.

EXECUTION OF MEXICAN EMPEROR RECALLED

June 20 Was Fiftieth Anniversary of Fateful End of Maximilian—Represented Greatest Victory Ever Achieved for Monroe Doctrine.

Washington, D. C., June 20.—In the light of present events it is not without interest to recall that today is the fiftieth anniversary of the execution of Emperor Maximilian of Mexico, whose untimely end represented the greatest victory ever achieved for the Monroe Doctrine and the greatest defeat ever suffered by the cause of imperialism at the hands of Democracy in America.

American diplomacy has never shown more brilliantly than during the trying period of the foreign occupation of Mexico, immediately before and after the close of the war between the States. The attitude of the United States toward the Napoleonic scheme of establishing an empire in the West commanded profound respect, even in the mind of good a hater of the people at Louis Napoleon.

In the early part of 1864, when Maximilian ascended the throne of Mexico, he made known the fact of his accession to all the great powers of the world, who immediately recognized the empire by sending diplomatic representatives to reside at his court. The United States, however, took no notice of the communication.

But in 1865 the situation had wholly changed. The American civil war was ended and the republic was saved. Among the questions of the new peace, scarcely less potent than those of reconstruction, was the standing menace to our liberties of the new empire in the south. On Dec. 6, 1865, the United States Government defined its exact policy and position to the French minister in the following communication:

"Republican and domestic institutions on this continent are deemed most congenial with and most beneficial to the United States. Where the people of any country, like Brazil now or Mexico in 1862, have voluntarily established and acquired in monarchical institutions of their own choice, free from all foreign control or intervention, the United States does not refuse to maintain relations with such governments, or seek through propaganda, by force or intrigue, to overthrow those institutions. On the contrary, where a nation has established institutions republican and domestic, similar to our own, the United States asserts in its behalf that no foreign nation can rightfully intervene by force to subvert republican institutions and establish those of an antagonistic character."

This was a definition of the Monroe Doctrine which brooked no qualification. The Government at Washington followed it up with a formal demand that Louis Napoleon withdraw his troops from Mexico. An army of 50,000, with Sheridan and Custer and other noted civil war commanders, was hurried south, charged with the ostensible duty of restoring Texas and Louisiana to the Union, but with the real purpose of driving the French and Austrians out of Mexico unless they were withdrawn voluntarily.

Louis Napoleon saw the handwriting on the wall and withdrew the French troops from Mexico, leaving Maximilian to his fate. With a dwindling army of a few thousand men, the ill-fated Emperor faced the advancing armies of the Mexican patriots. He was driven back to Queretaro and the city was forthwith besieged by the Republicans. Reduced to the last pinch, Maximilian and his followers were forced to surrender. The Emperor and the principal officers who remained with him were tried by court-martial and sentenced to death. Fifty years ago today the sentence was carried out at Queretaro.

Since the days of the French Revolution as the historian points out, no such tragic fate had befallen any of the reigning families of Europe. The catastrophe in Mexico wrought irreparable injury to the prestige of Louis Napoleon. To retrieve their waning fortunes the French emperor and his ambitious wife sought eagerly for some new field of action. It was at this juncture that pressure began to be brought on Prussia by France, with Prussia's retention of the strong fortress of Luxembourg as the basis for the French complaint. An agreement patched up by the international conference at London served to defer the actual break for several years, but in 1870 came the war that all had foreseen as inevitable, ending in the downfall of the French empire and the establishment of the German empire under the dominance of Prussia.

MERCHANTS AND THE RED CROSS

Herewith is a copy of a letter sent in last night's mail to Jacksonville merchants asking for their hearty co-operation in the Red Cross membership campaign. There are various ways of giving this assistance and some of them are emphasized in the personal appeal sent to the merchants. This strong suggestive letter is as follows: Jacksonville, Ill., June 20, 1917.

To the Merchants of Jacksonville:

Calling your attention to the Red Cross Campaign: it is useless to tell the absolute necessity of this campaign of the Red Cross and what they propose to do with your money. We take it for granted that all know that this is a different campaign from anything that has ever been entered into in Jacksonville before, but the people must be educated, and it is up to the business men of the community to do the educating. The women will take care of themselves.

Will you please lend your assistance in every way possible by supporting the movement, by asking every one if he or she, including the children, has joined the Red Cross? In other cities the merchants have devoted the week largely to advertising by window decorating. Will you fill your windows with appropriate decorations for the period? Will you talk about the movement all the time, thereby making it easier for the committee workers, and making this the most popular campaign that has ever been put on in Jacksonville? Will you assist cheerfully whenever you are asked to perform some service? Will you "Do your bit?"

Yours sincerely,

M. F. Dunlap,
Chairman Jacksonville Chapter
Dr. C. E. Black, Vice Chairman
Mrs. Hester Capps, Secretary

A PURSE FOR DR. POST.

The most interesting incident at the meeting of the mission study circle in the Congregational church, held at the home of Capt. and Mrs. J. W. Bowen Tuesday evening, was the presentation of a purse of gold to Dr. R. O. Post. Mrs. E. M. Coe made the presentation speech, telling briefly of the large place that Dr. Post and his wife hold in the hearts of the members of the circle.

The purse was given as a token of personal appreciation and in acknowledgment of the wise leadership given by Dr. Post thru the past years. It was a Japanese purse of goodly size filled with $5 gold pieces and it goes without saying that Dr. Post and his wife greatly appreciated the gift, both because of its intrinsic value and the kindly good feeling that it represents.

NEW OFFICERS' CAMPS TO BE ESTABLISHED

Application Blanks and Rules Governing Admission Into the Service Received Here by Mayor H. J. Rodgers

Application blanks for the new training camps for officers which will be opened by the government Aug. 27 have been received in Jacksonville by Mayor H. J. Rodgers. Men of mature years and executive training are especially desired and these camps will appeal chiefly to men above the age for registration.

Men of professional experience are desired and all who have received military training and are under the age of fifty years will be received. Mayor Rodgers is in charge of the local officers' recruiting headquarters of the military training camps association.

Purpose of the Camps
Following are some of the points brought out by the government communication and the qualifications desired:

This is the final call for older men from civil life, who have a fund of real, personal experience. Younger men can rise from the ranks. The training camp is primarily for those over 31 years of age.

The war department makes it very clear that when the men, who secure commissions at this last camp have taken their places as leaders of the first 500,000, all promotions will be from the rank and file.

In brief the following are the qualifications for admission to the new training camps:

An intelligent, trained mind. Executive business ability. Previous military training is an asset—but not necessary. The maximum age limit is 50 years; the minimum, 20 years, 9 months. However, in order to obtain the experienced class of men desired, preference will be given to those over 31 years of age, other things being equal.

The war department expressly states that because of the anticipated large number of applications, it will probably be difficult for men under 31 years to qualify, except in instances where the applicants have pre-eminent qualifications or unusual military experience.

Rate of Pay

The government will pay civilians in training at the rate of $100 per month, and will also furnish transportation, subsistence and uniform. Men who receive commissions will be paid, while in active service, at the same rate as regular United States army officers, which is as follows:

Second Lieutenant ..... $1,700
First Lieutenant ..... 2,000
Captain ..... 2,400
Major ..... 3,000
Lieutenant-colonel ..... 4,000

Applications for the second training camp will be received between June 15 and July 15 at the local officers' recruiting headquarters. Under no circumstances will an applicant be considered after July 15. Upon the termination of this period, army examiners will visit various points, to be announced, in each state. An applicant selected for personal and physical examination will be notified to appear before the regular army officer in person, at a convenient point, for inquiry into his record, capacity, leadership and qualifications in general.

The obligation involved is "enlistment for a period of three months" only. Applicants will agree to accept, at the end of the training, such commission in the Army of the United States as may be tendered by the secretary of war. The enlistment, however, obligates one to service in the training camp only.

Locality of the Camps

The training camps are to be held in the south. The war department announces locations as follows: For Division Area I (Illinois and Indiana), Port Benjamin Harrison, Ind. (3 camps). For Division Area IV (Pennsylvania congressional districts not included in Area III), Divisional Area VIII (Ohio and West Virginia) and Divisional Area IX (Indiana and Kentucky), Fort Logan H. Roots, Ark. (2

NINETY ACRES OF CORN WASHED OUT.

Charles McDonald residing on Big Indian creek south of Litterberry was one of the many Morgan county farmers who suffered loss thru the recent heavy rains. Mr. McDonald had ninety acres of corn washed out by the flood. He now has all but 15 acres replanted and believes that he will raise a good crop unless some more bad luck visits him. Old settlers in the vicinity of Big Indian creek said the water was the highest they had ever seen.

A forty acre tract southeast of Litterberry farmed by Earl Myers and Arthur Litter was washed out by the flood and will have to be re-planted.

COST SUNDAY NIGHT

One dominant feature of the Red Cross campaign is that none of the workers are paid. Headquarters are held to a very insignificant figure. This is possible, of course, only thru the generosity of the people. The opera house which has been secured for the Sunday night mass meeting can be mentioned as a case in point. As the lessees, Messrs. Hopper and Uffmann are furnishing the house without charge. There is a considerable expense attached to opening the house for an evening, as light bills and janitor service must be paid, in addition to some other necessary expenditure. The Red Cross committee very much appreciates the courtesy that has been accorded them in this instance.

RED CROSS WORKERS

TO MEET TONIGHT

All officers, members of the board of directors, members of the executive committee, captains and workers for the Red Cross campaign are requested to meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Red Cross shop. This meeting is for the purpose of outlining and discussing the campaign plans. Supplies will be given to the workers at this meeting. Your attendance is most earnestly urged.

E. E. Crabtree, Chairman Organization and Membership committee.

The Canton Ledger contains the following notice of an honor which has come to Frank Tendick, a grandson of Mrs. Sabilla Tendick of West College avenue. The young man has been appointed to a very lucrative position with the Tennessee Chemical company. The Ledger's notice is as follows:

"Frank Tendick, son of John Tendick, P. & O. salesman, who has just graduated from the University of Illinois at Urbana, refused an offer from the faculty to teach chemistry in the college and has accepted a position as expert chemist for a $15,000.00 manufacturing concern in Tennessee. Frank always was considered a student, and his many Canton friends and school-mates will be greatly pleased to hear of his success."

OLD JACKSONVILLE

Two Old Time Matters
By Ensey Moore
(Member of Illinois Historical Society.)

The following letter is too remarkable and interesting to be allowed to go unpublished. It is remarkable as being so well written by a man of eighty or more years; and it is interesting because of the light it gives on old time ways and things.

Lake Charles, La., is quite a large town and one of the growing places of the South.

The letter reads as follows:
Lake Charles, La., June 16, 1917.
Mr. Ensey Moore,
Dear Sir:

I have always been interested in the story of the Clay and Hardin families. Your recent sketch of Porter Clay has excited memories of my boyhood, as did your article, "Hardin's Funeral." When a boy seven or eight years old, in 1842 or '43, my brother Cyrus was a student in Illinois College, he roomed in the old College Dormitory. Money was scarce in those days. Our father sent his fuel from home, a distance of ten or twelve miles. On one occasion, at least, our father sent in an ox team load of wood, driven by my brother Abraham. On this load of wood I sat perched, making my first visit to old Illinois College. It probably required five hours to make the trip, perhaps more, oxen were not swift of foot. We left the town, at what is now the crossing of West State and Prairie streets, crossing a broad reach of prairie before arriving at the College which was located at the edge of a beautiful grove on a conspicuous elevation. The road wound around thru the dog fennel and across the prairie. Away off to the right, I saw a house on a mound, and was told it was the home of Porter Clay, a brother of Henry Clay—that was enough, a brother of the Great Henry. In that day two great men were familiar in name to all boys in the West: Andrew Jackson and Henry Clay—and there lived a brother of Henry!

How well I remembered how it looked then, and I am glad you continued the history of the place down to the present.

I remember the Enos lived on West State street, but had forgotten that it was the Porter Clay place.

Frank (V. L.) Enos was a classmate of mine. We were good friends. Frank was good looking and talented, in manner and dress faultless. The boys dubbed him "Sis Enos," but Frank was a good mixer, and was popular and highly esteemed by all the students.

Another classmate, William J. G. Nutting, they called "Bub" Nutting was another talented young fellow; rather reserved, hence his nickname. The boys meant no harm or disrespect, you know. He was a brother of Prof. Nutting, and of Mrs. Livingston M. Glover, and one of the best Latin scholars old Illinois ever had.

This simple creed, prompted by having boyhood memories aroused, need not trouble you; no answer is expected. When my Weekly Journal comes, I first look to see what "Old J." is this time. Please to keep them coming. I assure you, for one, I am always interested. I am yours truly, William Epler.

Old Depots.

The other day, in the "Central Park," or "Court Yard," as we used to call it, Henry W. Jackson stopped the writer to tell him something.

Mr. Jackson said:
"You said there was a depot in the Square. I never saw a depot here. But there was what was called the 'Market House,' which was used as a depot."

The writer said, "that was what I supposed to. Rice Smith told me of it, and I knew what it was." Very frequently the older people have some such criticism to make. The difference how ever is generally as slight as this was.

When the original "Northern Cross" road came in here, in 1839, the market house was used as a station, and so used until about 1849, when the railroad was removed from State street to its present position, further north, almost on the line of Lafayette avenue, which the track crosses at the present freight station on North Main street.

Of course, all the older people understood about this. But, to avoid confusion as to the fact, it may be well again to state just where the original "depot" was, and that the building did not belong to the railway company.

Speaking of depots: The "Northern Cross" had a fine large building for office and storage purposes at Meredosia, from which place the road ran, to begin with. It stood, and was used for many years. In 1859, the "Quincy and Toledo railroad" was opened from Meredosia to Quincy, and the depot here referred to was again put in use for its original purpose.

Meantime, in 1849, the six miles was opened into Naples, six miles below Meredosia, on the river, and the track to Meredosia was taken up. There a large building, a duplicate of the one at Meredosia, was put up. Both of these buildings were on the bank of the Illinois river, backing up to it, so that, in time of high water, the steamboats could come right up to the west end of the depot to receive or discharge passengers or freight. This depot at Naples burned about 1870.

A mile or so west of the present town of Chapin, was platted a town called Morgan City. Now the "stop" is known as "Morgan." There was a good large building there, substantially the same as the stations at Meredosia and Naples. It stood till comparatively recent years.

The "Northern Cross" got into Springfield in 1842 or 43, and the old brick station from which Lincoln started East, to be President, was probably erected at that time.

LUTHERAN SYNOD IN TRIENNIAL MEETING

Largest Lutheran Body in America
Convenes in Milwaukee—Reformation Anniversary to be Commemorated—Unification Plan

Milwaukee, Wis., June 20—Several hundred Lutherans, including pastors and laymen, met here today for the triennial convention of the synod of Missouri, which takes in practically every state in the union. The convention will be marked by celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of the Reformation. The opening exercises were held at Trinity church this forenoon.

The synod meeting here is the largest Lutheran body in America, outnumbering the general synod which is meeting in Chicago. It was organized at Chicago about seventy years ago by a sprinkling of pastors and congregations and now represents approximately a million souls. Between two and three thousand pastors have charge of about four thousand congregations and preaching stations and about 1100 male teachers and 350 female teachers are actively engaged in the church schools.

Theological Students
More than 350 theological students are enrolled at Concordia seminary at St. Louis, Mo., and there is another theological institution at Springfield, Ill. At River Forest, Ill. is the Concordia teachers' college, the synod's oldest and largest institution for the preparation of teachers for work in the church schools. All told the synod has jurisdiction over fifteen seminaries and colleges. The various districts of the Missouri synod meet in convention separately two consecutive years while the third year the general body convenes.

The Rev. J. Hilgendorf of Omaha, Neb., delivered the opening address here. The Rev. F. Pfotenhauer, of Chicago, president of the synod, will preside at the daily sessions and will be assisted by the vice-presidents, the Rev. J. W. Miller of Ft. Wayne, Ind., the Rev. P. Brand, Pittsburgh, Pa., and the Rev. J. Hilgendorf, of Omaha. Professor B. D. Beidermann, Springfield, Ill., will act as secretary. Reports will be made by 19 different committees on home missions, foreign missions, schools, colleges, church extension fund, young people's work, revision of the synodical constitution, pension fund and other similar topics. During the convention special services will be held in each local church affiliated with the synod.

Jubilee Services

On the afternoon and evening of June 24 there will be jubilee services commemorating the four hundredth anniversary of the Reformation, in the main hall of the auditorium. Prof. W. Cohn, Chicago, will deliver an address in German and Prof. F. Bente, St. Louis, will deliver the English address. The auditorium meeting will hear music by a children's chorus of eleven hundred voices and a male chorus of four hundred, both assisted by orchestra. At the evening services the Rev. H. Blake, Chicago, will speak in German and Prof. G. Romer, Bronxville, N. Y., in English. A big chorus will give special music at this service.

Chicago, June 20—A plan to unify three of the principal Lutheran organizations in the United States will be the chief subject of discussion here, the bi-annual convention of the General Synod of the church which opened here today. The plan contemplates the amalgamation of the general Synod, the General Council and the United Synod of the South. The southern body, smallest of the three, was a product of civil war days. The other two split apart in 1866.

Delegates to the convention here number 290, half of them clergy and the other half laymen. It was announced that they represent 400,000 voting members of the church. If united the combined organization will have 3,439 clergymen, 934,000 confirmed members and a total membership of children and adults of 1,334,000, it was stated.

The movement for unification took definite form at a meeting of the Joint Lutheran committee in Philadelphia on April 18, the project being broached when the committee was considering plans for a celebration of the quadri-centennial of the Reformation. It was felt that the most fitting observance would be a union of the synods and the committee persuaded the presidents of the three bodies to appoint a joint commission on constitution, which commission will report to the present convention the first of the three to meet this year.

The convention follows a two-days session of the Federal Council of

MOTOR FIRE APPARATUS FOR SPRINGFIELD

Since an election is soon to be held in Jacksonville asking for the issuance of $20,000 of bonds for motorization of the fire department, a contract let by Springfield is of interest. The Seagraves company of Columbus, Ohio, was the successful bidder and will furnish a 75 foot aerial truck, a city service truck and four booster pumps of 250 gal. per minute capacity, for the sum of $42,000. Other apparatus was purchased to the extent of about $5,000. It is estimated that it will be six months before the equipment is received and in working order.

Rev. C. D. Houghman, wife and daughter, Luella, of Normal, motored down to Chapin to renew former acquaintances and friendships and then returned to the city on their way to Woodson.

Coveleskie Retires from Mound to Make Room for a Pinch Hitter— New York and Boston Divide a Double Header.
Chicago, June 20.—Eddie Collins' triple and Wambsganss' error gave Chicago a 3 to 2 victory over Cleveland today in the first game of the series. The game was a pitching duel between Williams and Coveleskie, the latter retiring to make room for a pinch hitter.
The locals won the game in the sixth inning. Leibold walked and Weaver dropped a Texas leaguer in left. Both worked a double steal on the first ball pitched and E. Collins cracked the next ball to deep center sending in two runs home. Collins pulled up at third but when he saw Wambsganss' juggie Speaker's return of the ball he dashed home with the winning run.
Chapman's walk, Speaker's single and a sacrifice fly by Roth gave the visitors their first run and they scored the other when Speaker took two bases on Leibold's miff and scored on Wambsganss' double.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION PLANS

The Events at Nichols Park Bid
Fair to Assume Large Proportions

The idea of the Fourth of July celebration at Nichols park as suggested seems to be growing in favor very largely. Several from surrounding towns have been heard from and express an intention to be here and enjoy the sights.

Regarding fireworks there is a difference of opinion. Some feel that money should not be so used at this time while many others think that Fourth of July fireworks at Nichols park are an asset and feature of Jacksonville that should not be omitted and as there are to be few other expenses they regard the fireworks reasonable. It is quite possible the fireworks will yet be enjoyed there tho it is not fully decided. Dressing accommodations for both girls and boys who want to bathe have been arranged for all right and it is likely they will be used.

Prof. Carter has arranged the following list of events and prizes:

Boys, 10 to 14 years, 50 yard dash—belt; 100 yard dash—Necktie.

Girls, 10 to 14 years, 50 yard dash—Silk hair ribbon; 100 yard dash—Silk sash.

Boys, 15 to 18 years, 100 yard dash—Silk hose; 220 yard dash—silk handkerchief.

Men, 40 to 50 years, 50 yard dash—straw hat.

Fat men's race, 200 lbs., to qualify, 50 yard dash—watch fob.

Boys, 10 to 14 years, running broad jump—1 lb. box candy.

Boys, 15 to 18 years, running broad jump—fountain pen.

Wheelbarrow relay race, boys 10 to 14 years, box candy; boys 14 to 18 years, box candy.

Nail driving contest for ladies—Aluminum pan.

Wood sawing contest for ladies—Aluminum pan.

Potato race—boys, knife; girls, silk sash.

FAVORS NATION WIDE INFORMATION CAMPAIGN

Pomeroy Burton, Addressing International Rotary Convention, Advocates Telling the People the Full Truth About Present War—Lethargy of U. S. Result of Close Censorship of Allies.

Atlanta, Ga., June 20.—A nationwide campaign of information "deliberately designed to bring the people of the United States quickly to a thorough understanding of all phases of the war, of why we are in it, of the kind of enemy we are fighting, and of the urgent necessity for the whole people of the United States to join with their very hearts and souls in the stupendous task," was advocated by Pomeroy Burton, in an address which he delivered today before the International Rotary Convention, here. Mr. Burton, the well known American journalist in London who has been lecturing in the United States upon the relation of the United States to the war, spoke as follows:

"For nearly three years the grim and bony index finger of war has pointed straight this way.

"For nearly three years, and each succeeding day with accumulating force, urgent reasons have existed for putting in order the defensive machinery of this country.

"After nearly three years of war on a scale such as the world never dreamed of before, involving country after country, and sweeping steadily on, like an overwhelming tidal wave, with warning after warning of the most definite character—the Lusitania, the Sussex, the Arabic—with lightning flashes and deafening peals of thunder from the darkening skies to tell all who were not blind and deaf of the approaching storm; despite all these, today finds great masses of the population throughout the United States dangerously apathetic and oblivious to the acute peril which threatens them. It also finds this country astoundingly unprepared.

"I am not one of those who believe the Allies can be defeated—they must surely conquer in the end; but so serious are some features of the war situation today that unless the people of the United States awaken quickly to a full sense of their individual responsibilities and join heartily in the work of organizing the country for war on an enormous scale, there is almost certain to ensue a long period of ghastly fighting and world-suffering—with ruin and starvation on every side and by a long period I mean from five to twenty years, or more.

Co-Operation Necessary
"The war program cannot be made effective without the full co-operation of the people. That co-operation cannot be expected until the people have been aroused to a full and complete understanding of the war, of what it means to them and their future, and of the obligations and responsibilities which devolve upon them if it is to be won within the next two years.

"I would like to repeat with the utmost emphasis what I had the privilege of stating recently to the Merchants' Association of New York that it is absolutely essential for those who are shaping the general war program, without further delay, to organize and project, under government direction, a great and far-reaching campaign of information designed to make the people understand this war. It should be made to reach the eyes and the hearts and the full understanding of the people by freely using the advertising and the news columns of every useful publication in the United States, and by using the movies, the billboard, the post offices, the public buildings, the railway stations, and the public conveyances, as was done in the great publicity campaigns which were successfully used to arouse the people of England to a full sense of their danger and their responsibilities at a critical period of the war. In addition to this, school rooms, the lecture halls, the churches, the libraries, the city halls, the public squares—all the meeting places of the people in every state in the Union should resound with the voices of America's greatest and most forceful speakers, telling the people the full truth, the basic facts, about this war.

Would Benefit Allied Cause
"If coupled with this urgently needed campaign, there could be accomplished a radical revision of the French and English Censorship rules permitting a much freer flow of all sorts of war facts and war developments from the fighting areas than is possible under existing conditions, the effect, I feel sure, would be enormously beneficial to the whole Allied cause.

"For instance, would it not be the height of wisdom to reverse the policy which even yet conceals from the world the full truth about the incredible atrocities in Belgium, atrocities which, if possible, have been outdone in Rumania, and which up to now have not been publicly disclosed; adopting a new policy which would release to the whole world the story of appalling barbarities perpetrated by the Germans there—many of them too horrible to describe from a public platform, but all of them serving to show the people here what they might expect in the event of a Hun invasion of the United States; what sort of enemy, in fact, it is that we are fighting; exposing the fiendish devilry which crushed thousands of poisoned candies, filled with typhus germs, to be dropped from German aeroplanes for Rumanian children to pick up and eat; the tragic story of how the Queen's little boy her youngest, picked up one of these poison-laden sweets in her garden, ate it, sickened almost at once, hovered between life and death for weeks and finally died in her arms, this story being written by the Queen's own pen and sent to a lady who has recently returned to New York, and who has the letter with her now; the shocking story of how brutal German soldiers forced gentle and refined Rumanians to disrobe in public, and then drove them in groups through the streets; the story of

Rumania's piteable plight today, with disease raging unchecked for lack of surgeons, physicians and medical supplies; the bloodcurdling details of scores of submarine sinkings where non-combatant victims struggling for life in the water were ruthlessly shot or struck down at short range; or, when they escaped that horrible fate, where they were cast adrift in small boats on the high seas to die one after another from madness and from thirst; and in a different category, the thrilling stories of those combats in the air which are taking place every day over the fighting lines of France, stories of courage and daring the like of which have never been equaled in the widest realms of fiction; the countless stories of noble heroism, of human sacrifice and suffering for a great cause, which show in their true light the details of modern warfare, so persistently concealed, and so urgently needed to stir the people's pulse and to make them feel and realize the truth and the full truth about this gigantic struggle between might and right on the one side and might alone on the other.

Reverse Policy of Secrecy

"Reverse this policy of secrecy, let the people at home have these and other pictures of the war as it really is, and I firmly believe the response would be electrical—the people of the United States would rouse as one man to their task, fired with patriotic fervor born of a full and true understanding of what this war means to them and their future, of the individual obligations it imposes upon those at home as well as upon those who are constantly facing death in the firing line for the sake of those at home.

"And this, it seems to me, is of paramount importance in view of circumstances which exist today clearly indicating that, as this country organizes for war quickly or slowly, well or badly, earnestly or haltingly—so will the end of the war be soon or long in coming."

Mr. Burton said that one of the reasons for the "strange lethargy" of the people of the United States was the policy of close censorship practiced by the Entente allies and that this policy already "has cost countless thousands of lives and untold treasure."

"I earnestly hope it will not be repeated here," said Mr. Burton. "The public is entitled to all the war news except those matters which military and naval experts judge to be of actual value to the enemy. Establish a censorship board of five newspaper men, with consulting military and naval advisers and proceed upon that broad and simple basis and there will be an end to all this foolish censorship discussion, the public will get the facts and military secrets unsuitably for publication will be automatically withheld."

WHAT PERMALITE IS

PERMALITE is a permanent and constant battery service for lighting and starting automobiles—a battery that lasts forever because of the Permalite System of Battery exchanges—an exchange conducted in identically the same manner as gas tank exchanges.

PERMALITE gives the automobile owner a permanent Electrical Service Exchange. Permalite stands in the same comparative relation to the ordinary battery as does the modern gas tank to the old form of acetylene generators, long since discarded.

PERMALITE is a battery so well and economically constructed by us that we can afford to lease to you for a nominal sum with a small exchange fee of $1.25, and you can exchange it as often as is necessary at any of our service stations, without delay, receiving in its place another Permalite battery which will have been renewed at our expense and containing the same exchange guarantee.

PERMALITE is not sold—it is too expensive a battery to sell to automobile manufacturers on a competitive basis. We cannot afford to sell this battery to an automobile manufacturer at approximate cost in order to secure a hold upon the user. We have to got to make Permalite so good that we can give you the best battery service you ever had in order to keep you in our exchange. We have no other inducement to hold you.

*Nervy Steeplejack Wears Merry "Tanlac Smile" at Work In Clouds

Beams on Dizzy Crowd From Skyscraper Flagpole.

CREDITS TONIC FOR HEALTH

Edgar Williams, With Nerves Like Steel, Declares That If It Wasn't For Tanlac He'd Not Be Able to Go About His Hazardous Task With the Ease and Composure He Now Enjoys.

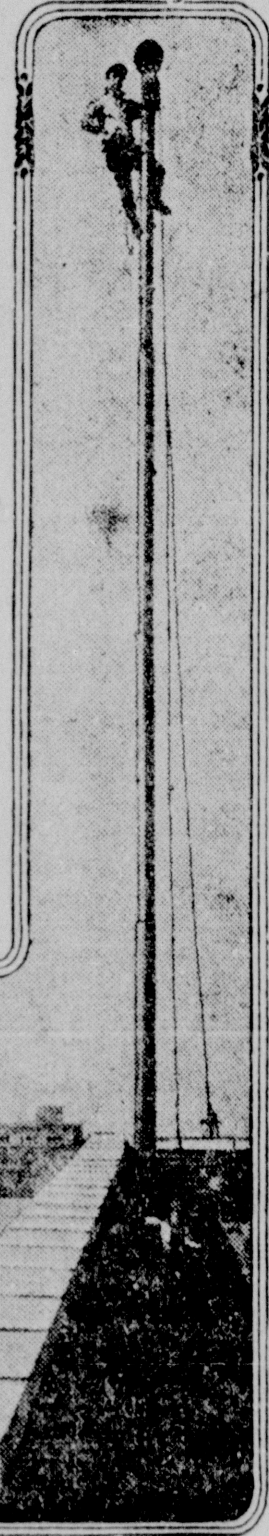

Watch Edgar Williams, steeplejack, perched on a slim flagpole atop a huge skyscraper, far above the bustling street throngs.

There is a glint of diamond clearness in his gaze; every move he makes is swift, sure, unflinching. His manner is as unconcerned as that of a man painting a sidewalk—save that he always wears a cheery, rippling smile.

Smile of Perfect Health.

It's the "Tanlac smile," the same smile that thousands of people are now learning daily, after months and years of worries from frayed-out nerves, ruined digestion and thinned red blood.

"TANLAC PUT ME UP HERE," SAYS STEEPLER JACK WILLIAMS. "IT GIVES ME STEADY NERVES AND PERFECT HEALTH."

ALPINE PEAKS HAVE MORE TERRORS FOR THE CHAMOIS THAN HAVE SKYSCRAPER CORNICES OR GIANT SMOKESTACKS FOR THIS DARING HUMAN FLY.

It's the only real and enduring smile—the smile of perfect health, vitality and strength—yet it is the kind of smile that everybody can have and keep all the time.

Widely Known For Daring.

Williams is a wonderful steeplejack. He lives at Cambridge City, Ind., but his hazardous duties carry him to many cities. His reputation for daring and skillful work at dizzy heights is nation wide. He likes his work, and the more difficult it is to reach the "job," as he nonchalantly calls it the better. Ask him why he feels as much at home dangling high in the air as he does near his own cozy fire, and he answers simply, "Perfect Health." He will tell you also that if it were not for Tanlac he would not be able to go about his hazardous occupation with the ease and composure he now enjoys.

Tanlac Assures Safety. Here's what he says: "Tanlac is a boon to me and assures me that for many years I shall be able to follow my dangerous occupation without the slightest fear of my nerves failing me.

"If I have not always felt at home suspended high in mid-air I do now. The prospect of a difficult job does not in the least worry me. I prepare for it by taking Tanlac. A few days before an unusually hard bit of work I tone up my system by taking Tanlac regularly. It quiets my nerves and puts my stomach and general physique into perfect athletic shape.

Wife Also Praises It.

"My wife also declares Tanlac to be the finest medicine in the world for run-down, nervous women," he says. "For a long period she was irritable, nervous and restless. Headaches and general debility had weakened her. Tanlac has restored her and to-day she enjoys the vitality and ambition that comes only from a healthy body and mind."
